

Woman Meets her Doppelganger in Ireland during Social Media Competition

An Irish woman has met a spitting image of herself after (1)_____ part in a social media competition called Twin Strangers.

Niamh Geaney challenged two (2)_____ her friends - Terence Manzanga, 22, and 26-year-old Harry English - to meet somebody (3)_____ looked exactly like themselves within a month. Last weekend, the 26-year-old met Karen Branigan, 29, at her home in Dublin.

The pair are both (4)_____ Ireland and live an hour away from (5)_____ other. "I thought I would be fine until I knew I was about 10 minutes away from meeting her," Geaney (6)_____ ABC News. "Then I started to (7)_____ ridiculously nervous wondering how I would react to meeting someone that looks like (8)_____ . I would be looking at my own face. For the entire duration of our encounter, I pretty much stared (9)_____ her. I couldn't get over her face and some of the expressions she would pull. I would think to myself or aloud, 'Oh my God, that's my face. I can't remember the number of (10)_____ I said, 'This is so freaky.' It was truly amazing."

Harry, Niamh and Terence have been using the media, Twitter, Instagram, Facebook and YouTube, as (11)_____ as their own website to try to find (12)_____ lookalikes.

An online vote will decide who's won after the poll closes (13)_____ 27 April, but Niamh is clearly in the lead at the moment.

KEY

1. taking
2. of
3. who
4. from
5. each / the
6. told
7. get / become
8. me
9. at
10. times
11. well
12. their
13. on

There may be more possible answers.

Source:

Platform: BBC Newsbeat

Direct link to source: <http://www.bbc.co.uk/newsbeat/article/32354739/woman-meets-her-doppelganger-in-ireland-during-social-media-competition>

Adapted by: KSE Academy®

KSE Academy® is responsible solely for the adaptation of the original text, and for the creation of the activities. This material is meant to be used for non-commercial purposes only, and the original source/author of the text should always be acknowledged.